Christmas Tableaux Presented to Throng

ARMORY IS CROWDED TO DOORS BY PEOPLE OF ALL NATIONS

Christmas Carols Sung

ALL TABLEAUX AND SOLOS PLEASE THE ENTIRE AUDIENCE

The ever new and wonderful story of the birth of Jesus of Nazareth in Bethlehem was told last night at the Lihue Armory by a series of tableaux. More than 800 people crowded into the armory and the annual Christmas production far exceeded all the audience's fondest expectations.

The singing of the Christmas carols by the entire audience was an added touch and to help those whose memories had failed them, the words were flashed on the screen. All joined in singing the sweet old melodies that have come to be a very part of Christmas itself.

The first tableau represented the prophets and the prophecy according to Isaiah, was read by Thomas Vance. The second tableau was the Annunciation and the Christmas story was read also by Thomas Vance.

The third tableau, the Herald Angels, was one of the most striking of the evening, the costuming and posing being very unusual.

The song and tableau, the Three Kings of the Orient, was by far the best received of them all. The trio number which was sung by the three kings was an old Christmas carol, "We Three Kings of Orient Are." This song was rendered by Simeon Dias, Henry Malina, and John Makaanani, who played the three kings, was greatly enhanced by the wonderful costumes worn by the singers.

The fourth tableau portrayed the shepherds awaking and following the star of Bethlehem. This was followed by a number by the cantata chorus.

The sixth tableau was the Madonna and child, and a solo "Sleep My Jesu Sleep," was sung by Elinor Dale during this number. Mrs. Mabel Jensen made a very striking Madonna.

The manger scene with Mary and Joseph and three little cherubs around the manger was the seventh tableau, while the Adoration, the last tableau made the most beautiful picture of them all.

Too much credit cannot be given the committee which was headed by Miss Edith Rice and Miss Edith Hanson, for the wonderful success of the Christmas tableaux.

The program committee for the tableaux was Mrs. H. D. Sloggett, Miss Edith Hanson, Mrs. Frank Crawford, Mrs. Alma Rogers and Rev. R. W. Bayless.

Others who contributed to the success of the evening were W. Hall, Neil Locke and W. H. Rice Jr.

Annual Cantata Pleases Large Crowd

BEST PRODUCTION EVER, IS THE GENERAL VERDICT

The Christmas cantata, "The Coming of the King," rendered at Lihue Memorial Parish house on Sunday evening, was a musical treat that will long be remembered by the large audience that sat enthralled throughout the rendition of this famous cantata.

The complete program of solo and chorus work was rendered in that pleasing and artistic manner for which this community is becoming famous and showed long and painstaking preparation.

Much credit is due Mrs. Ralph W. Bayless, conductress, and Mrs. William Grote, pianist, for the splendid success attained in this masterpiece. These ladies are both recognized as musicians of a high order and the musical personnel selected by them for the occasion did them full credit.

The soloists were Mrs. Alma Rogers, Mrs. Adrian Englehard, Mrs. Elliott Wood, Miss Elinor Dale, Mrs. Wm. Henry Rice, Mrs. Henry Sheldon, Rev. R. W. Bayless, Judge Wm. C. Achi Jr., Simeon Dias, Alfred Akiona, John Makaanani, Henry Waiatu, Digby Sloggett.

DREDGING COMPLETED AT AHUKINI HARBOR

The Hawaiian Dredging Co. completed the dredging of Ahukini last week and the dredger returned to Honolulu Thursday.

Over one thousand yards of material was removed from the bottom of the harbor during the operation of the dredger. A minimum depth of 35 feet is maintained throughout the entire dredged portion.

The area dredged is one thousand feet from the breakwater following a line parallel to the wharf and then follows a line of practically the same length curving to a point on the shore opposite the end of the breakwater.

It is now possible for steamers as big as the Wilhelmina to use Ahukini harbor, which ought to remove any objections that the Inter Island have in putting either the Kilauea of the Mauna Kea on the local run when the Haleakala arrives.

DAILY MAIL SERVICE FOR EAST KAUAI

The post office department announces that beginning January 9 there will be a daily mail service to Hanalei from Lihue, excepting Sunday and Monday.

This will end a long fight that the east side of the island has been making to secure daily service to that part of Kauai.

man, Lailani Scott.

The Prophets—Charles Scribner, Mortimer Lydgate, Timothy Montgomery, Henry Wedemeyer, Kazu Yamasaki.

The Shepherds—Solomon Tseu, Charles Ishii, C. Corezan, Charles Wood, James C. Clapper, Arthur Sloggett.

The Kings—Simeon Dias, Henry Malina, John Makaanani.

The Cherubs—Harriet Locke, Helen Rice and Mary Salisbury.

KAUAI CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HOLDS BIG MEETING OF YEAR

Ninety Members Turn Out to Hear Professor A. A. Hauck Speak on Education; Principal F. J. Dollinger Talks on School Problems

The Kauai Chamber of Commerce held its regular meeting at the Tip Top Cafe last Thursday evening and the biggest turnout of the year marked the last meeting in 1922.

Over 90 members turned out to hear Prof. A. A. Hauck, president of Parahou school, and F. J. Dollinger, of Kauai high school, and they were rewarded by hearing two of the most interesting addresses that have been delivered before the chamber this year.

President Hauck was the first speaker and he took for his subject "Education." He told the chamber that the duties of present day education in preparing the children for the future were fourfold. The first was to educate them along physical lines, so that their bodies would be prepared to take up the struggle when they went out into the world. The second duty was to give them a complete working knowledge of the English language so that in the future their thinking and reading would be in that language. The third duty was to develop a civic attitude among the children so that when they became of age they would perform their duties as citizens in an intelligent manner; and the fourth was to teach them to earn a living.

He then told the chamber that it was a good sign for the future of education when bodies similar to the chamber were taking an interest in it.

President Hauck's address was delivered in an unusually interesting manner and his words made a distinct impression on the members.

F. J. Dollinger, who followed Mr. Hauck, then told what is being done at the Kauai high school along developing the local children. Mr. Dollinger opened his talk with an invitation to the members of the chamber to visit the high school and inspect it so as to receive first hand knowledge as to what is being done.

He then became specific where President Hauck had been general, and told that the school was working along a fourfold plan.

The first plan was that the school was preparing the scholars who intended to take up college courses, for that work in its academic department. The second plan was to develop the local girls, who preferred that course along the lines of domestic science and domestic art. This course prepared them as house wives and home builders. The third plan was to develop boys industrially and technically, with a four year manual training course. The fourth plan was to develop girls and boys for a commercial career with a four year commercial course.

Mr. Dollinger's talk gave many members of the chamber a new light on the work that has been done at the high school and many favorable comments were heard from various members.

At the business session, which followed the banquet, a motion was introduced to have the chair appoint a committee to devise a suitable memorial to the late J. M. Lydgate. An amendment was added to the first motion that the board of supervisors be petitioned by the chamber to change the name of Wailua Park to J. M. Lydgate Park as a memorial to Mr. Lydgate, as it was thru his efforts that this park was obtained for the public of Kauai. Both the motion and the amendment passed unanimously.

Rev. R. W. Bayless, who was the delegate to the recent civic convention in Honolulu from the Kauai Chamber of Commerce, rendered an interesting report on the convention.

Jack Horner gave as part of the entertainment, two solos that were well received. Neil Moier entertained at the piano between the courses.

Kapaa Water Supply Increased Next Year

Kapaa and Wailua residents who in the past have been forced to suffer temporary shortages in their water supply, due to the heavy demand for water in the early mornings and evenings, will no doubt be interested in the announcement of Supervisor Fred Mendes that the work of developing a supply of water, sufficient to meet the needs of Wailua, is expected to start early next year.

Plans for the work have already been submitted to the Department of Public Works in Honolulu and bids will probably be called for soon. Kapaa and Wailua are at present supplied with only one line, and Wailua and Wailua residents are always complaining of empty pipes, the demand from those at the head of the line taking all the water during certain periods of the day.

The present plans for the new water system call for two lines leading from the same source, one line for Kapaa users and another for Wailua and Wailua, thus insuring all residents with an adequate supply. A third line will probably be built to supply the Hawaiian Canneries Co., as the pineapple cannery during the height of the canning season in the summer months requires an enormous quantity of water for use in connection with their canning operations.

For those who may believe that three lines leading from the same source of supply might tend to exhaust the supply or at least to diminish it, Supervisor Mendes states that the present supply available all the year around, is sufficient to supply a district with three times the present population of Wailua.

The last legislature appropriated $60,000 for the development of an adequate water supply for Kapaa.

Political Plot Puzzles Public

KAWAIIHOU LADS SAID TO BE AFTER CARLOS LONG'S SCALP

Never let it be said that politicians are quiet in Kawaihau, as it is always open season in that district. The latest plot brewing that district is of island wide interest, for it hinges on the very important positions of Kauai tax assessor, the deputy tax assessor for Kawaihau and the district magistrate of Wailua.

The first step in the action regards the appointment of the deputy tax assessor for Kawaihau, who will be appointed by Carlos Long, tax assessor for the island. The Kawaihau precinct club has endorsed K. Masunaga for the position, and it is understood that is necessary for the candidate for a district office to be endorsed by the precinct club.

The rumor has gone abroad that Long does not intend to appoint Masunaga, but that Hopii, the other candidate, will be his selection. Kawaihau Republicans are not slow in stating that if Long does so they will go out after his scalp, as he is a Democratic holdover in the office as tax assessor and that a good Republican should replace him.

It is rather hard to see where the district magistrate of Wailua comes in at first glance, but this comes on another angle. Judge Hoggard is a good Republican, but he is in danger of losing his position, following along the policy of Chief Justice Peters in appointing Hawaiians to the district courts. Therefore the Kawaihau politicians figure that if the judge is removed it might not be a bad idea to remove the Democratic holdover in the tax assessor job and replace him with some good Republican, say Judge Hoggard, for instance.

The Kawaihau men claim that Deputy Sheriff Crowell is behind the movement to remove Judge Hoggard, although Crowell strenuously denies this.

Crowell is deputy tax assessor as well as deputy sheriff and it is claimed that if Hoggard succeeds Long that Crowell will hold only one position after the appointment.

Long is now registered as a Republican, but the information is given out from Kawaihau that he was appointed under a Democratic administration and that he also has been a candidate for office on the Democratic ticket.

In the meantime the story has spread all over the island and many various conjectures are being made as to the final outcome. However, if the affair should fail to come to a head, there is no doubt that Kawaihau will have a new sensation to spring the following week.

INMATES OF MAHELONA HOSPITAL ENJOY XMAS

Thru the kindness of many good friends of the Mahelona Memorial hospital, the inmates of that institution had an enjoyable Christmas with a tree, appropriate exercises and music and everything that goes to make the Yuletide a time of joy.

For several days past, cars have been arriving at the hospital, depositing packages and bundles that were destined to make those hearts glad.

FILIPINOS PLAN BIG CELEBRATION SATURDAY

The Filipino Rizal day committee announces that plans for the Filipino National celebration at Wailua are complete.

The morning program will be given over to patriotic exercises, while the afternoon will be given over to sports. Carpentero, the Filipino lightweight champion of the islands, is billed to meet an opponent not yet named. Lopez and Cornillio will meet in a four round bout as will Rojas and Tomas.

The all Filipino baseball team will meet the all-Japanese team in the other sports of the afternoon.

Foresters All Set For New Years Day

MANY ENTRIES ARE IN FOR THE BIG RACING PROGRAM

Entries for the Foresters big racing meet and day of sports at Wailua race track next Monday are practically complete. Sixteen races are down on the cards and the Foresters will have a busy time running them so as to get finished before dark.

John Fernandez, who is general chairman for the Foresters, announced today that there will be no long waits between races and the Lihue band will be on hand to snap things up while the horses are going to the post.

Two races on the card are exciting more interest than any of the others, these two being the mile open and the five-eighths open. Dinner Bell, Golden Spray and Sky Boy will meet in the mile and these three horses have the rail birds scratching their heads trying to figure the winner.

There certainly can be no shortage of stop-watches on the island, as whenever the horse from the enemy camp goes out for a work all the stable boys, trainers and jockeys for the other horses appear with watches and clocks him as he takes his spin around the track and then watches are compared and heads wag over the result. Old Golden Spray is said to be due for a comeback as he flashed the mile in good style yesterday. Both Dinner Bell and Sky Boy look good and no doubt they will have their backers when the big race comes off.

The other race that is causing comment is the five-eighths of a mile with Silver Dust, Fireman, Dinner Bell and Kapaa Girl as the entries. The first contenders were only Silver Dust and Fireman, but the addition of Dinner Bell and Kapaa Girl to the entries gives the race a new angle. Silver Dust took the measure of Fireman the last time they met, but Fireman's backers are looking for the Kapaa horses to lead the Fernandez mare, while the Japanese racing fans are backing Dinner Bell to finish ahead of them both. Kapaa Girl is given only an outside chance by most of the fans but there are plenty of backers for Gwin's mare.

The first race sounds like a poultry show instead of a horse race as the three entries are James Spalding's Chicken, John Malina's Turkey, and Jules Rapoza's Duck.

The entries to date are as follows:

1.—1-4 mile Babies. Chicken, Spalding, Turkey—Malina. Duck—Rapoza.

2.—3-8 mile free for all. Silver Dust, Fireman.

3.—3-4 mile free for all. Dinner Bell, Sky Boy, Prohibition.

4.—3-8 mile ladies race.

5.—1-2 mile Portuguese, Kapaa Girl, Black Bird, Hananaua Girl.

6.—1-2 mile Japanese. Koloa Girl, Wailua.

7.—3-8 mile for three year olds. Manu Kauai, Golden Shower, Sir Walter.

8.—1-2 mile Filipino. Post entries.

9.—1-4 mile girls race.

10.—3-8 mile post entries.

11.—1 mile mule race.

12.—5-8 free for all. Dinner Bell, Silver Dust, Kapaa Girl, Fireman.

13.—1 mile free for all. Dinner Bell, Sky Boy, Golden Spray.

14.—Cowboy relay post entries.

15.—Roman race. Ben Corbett and Ortega.
